

karbon
homes

Providing a strong foundation for life.

Can I buy my home?

RTB-RTA@karbonhomes.co.uk
karbonhomes.co.uk

Karbon Homes is a charitable registered society under the Co-operative and Community Benefit Societies Act 2014. Registration No.7529. Our debt advice service is authorised and regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA) FRN 775843

A guide to buying your home under the Right to Buy or Right to Acquire schemes

Contents

- Differences between Right to Buy and Right to Acquire
- Which scheme am I eligible for?
- Right to Buy
- Right to Acquire
- House buyers' frequently asked questions
- To buy or not to buy – a list to help you decide
- Helpful contacts

Introduction

1. Introduction

Interested in buying your home? This guide explains how you might be able to do so under one of two schemes – Right to Buy or Right to Acquire.

Buying your home is a big step and this guide aims to help you decide if it's the right decision for you and your family.

We're here to help

We'll give you all the advice, help and guidance you need throughout the buying process, signposting you to other independent agencies where necessary.

A few terms you might come across:

- A secure tenant is someone who has a lifetime tenancy
- An assured tenant has a fixed-term tenancy.
- A public sector tenant is someone whose landlord is a public body such as a council or registered social landlord.

Main differences

2. What are the main differences between Right to Buy and Right to Acquire?

Both schemes were designed by the Government to allow social housing customers to buy the home they currently rent, at a discount. The schemes operate in very similar ways – the main difference is the amount of discount you receive. These levels are determined by the Government.

The Right to Buy scheme was set up in 1980 to help people buy their council homes. If you originally held a secure tenancy with a council, and you were still living in your home when it was later transferred to a registered social landlord (now Karbon Homes) you may have a 'preserved' right to buy. If you were a secure tenant of a registered social landlord which later became part of Karbon Homes, and your tenancy began before 15 January 1989, you may have the right to buy.

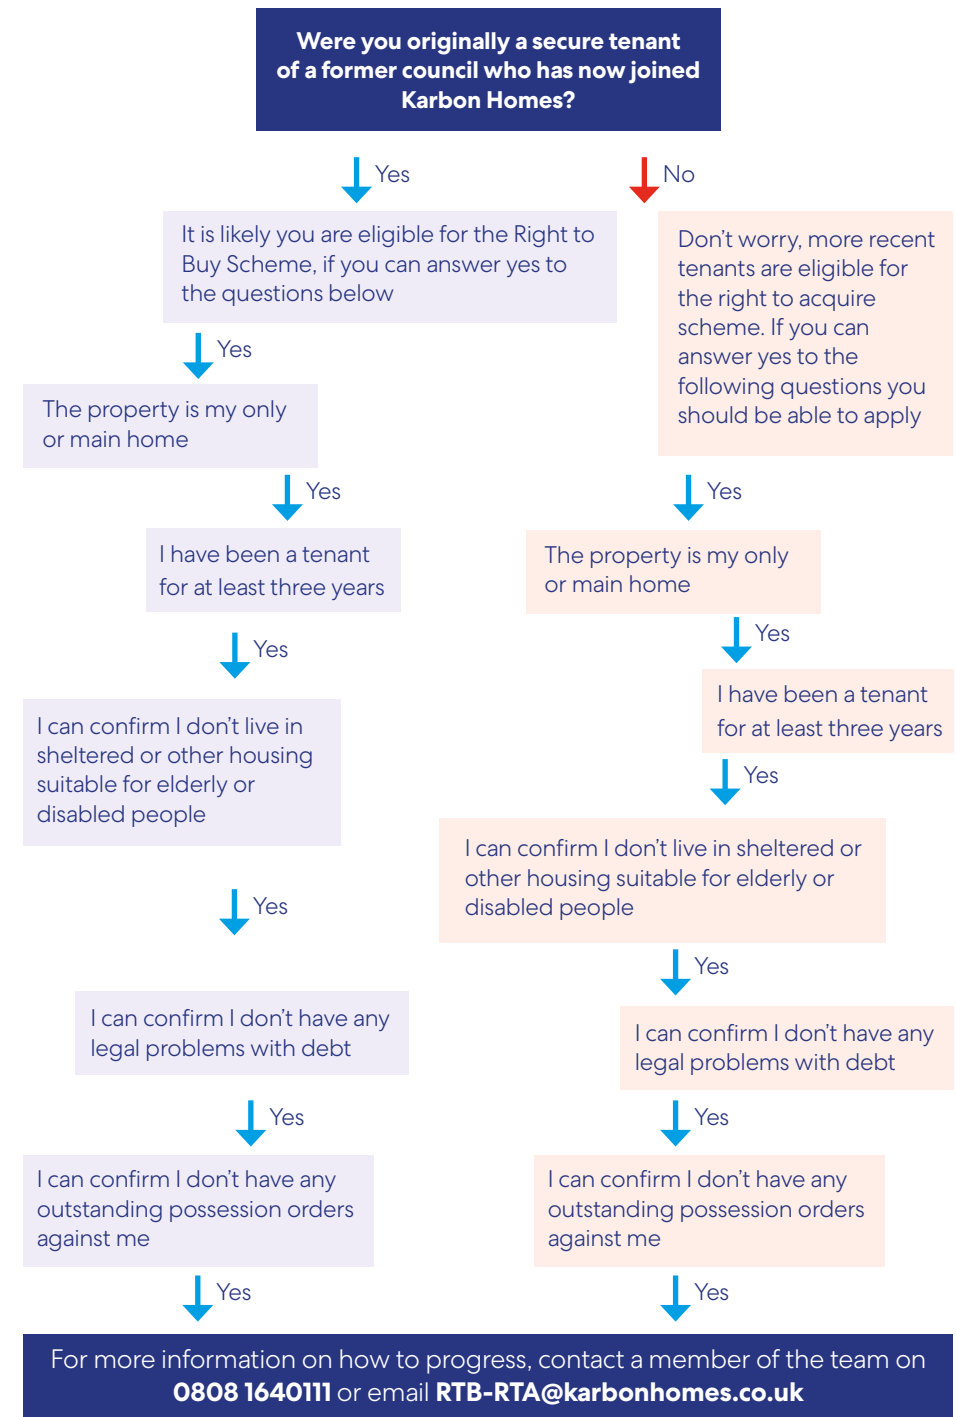

The Right to Acquire scheme means more recent customers of Karbon Homes aren't ruled out from the possibility of buying their homes. Take our simple quiz on the following page to find out which scheme you are most likely to be eligible to apply for.

Please refer to the information at 4.2.

Eligibility

3. Which scheme am I eligible for?

Eligibility for the Right to Buy or Right to Acquire scheme depends on a number of factors. Use our simple quiz opposite to find out if you could be eligible for either scheme and then turn to the appropriate page for more details.

Right to Buy

4.1. What is the Right to Buy?

The right to Buy scheme was set up by the Government to help people buy their council homes at a lower price than the full market value. This is because the length of time you have spent as a tenant entitles you to a discount.

4.2. Can I buy my home under the Right to Buy?

Public sector tenants who obtained their secure tenancies before their council home became part of Karbon Homes may have the 'Preserved Right to Buy'.

To qualify you need to have been a secure tenant of one of the following organisations before the dates shown:

- Tynedale District Council, before 20 December 1999
- Castle Morpeth Borough Council, before 29 October 2007
- Chester-le-Street District Council, before 4 February 2008
- Derwentside District Council, before 4 December 2006 • Newcastle City Council (Byker), before 5 July 2012 Tenants who obtained their secure tenancies with one of the organisations below have the 'Right to Buy'
- Nomad Housing, before 15 January 1989
- Enterprise 5, before 15 January 1989 To purchase under the scheme your house or flat must be your only home or your main home. It must also be self-contained – meaning you don't share rooms with people outside of your household.

4.3. Who can't buy their home?

You might not be able to buy your home if:

- You are an undischarged bankrupt or have a bankruptcy petition pending against you
- You have made an arrangement with creditors and you still owe them money
- Your tenancy has been demoted as a result of anti-social behaviour or some other breach of tenancy
- A court has made a possession order which says you must leave your home because of rent arrears, for example This list is not exhaustive and other restrictions might also apply.

4.4. Are any properties excluded?

Certain types of properties are excluded from the scheme. You might not be able to buy your home if you live in:

- Retirement housing
- Supported housing offering special accommodation, for example for people with disabilities
- A property that forms part of your job such as a caretaker or warden
- A property that has been adapted for disabled use
- A home that is scheduled for possible demolition
- Some bungalows

These are the main exclusions, though others do apply. Just ask us if you are unsure whether your home is covered. You have the right to appeal to the First Tier Tribunal Service if your application is refused because of the type of property you live in.

4.5. What discount am I entitled to under Right to Buy?

As of the 21st November 2024 the maximum discount you can receive is £22,000. This applies to all homes in the Northeast and is set by the government.

Any applications submitted before the 21 November are still eligible for the previous discount levels.

Discounts might be reduced to take into account the cost floor. This may include the cost of acquiring, building, maintaining or improving your home in recent years. The cost floor is taken into account when your home's value is calculated.

4.6. What if I have purchased before?

If you have purchased under the Right to Buy scheme before, the amount of discount you got then will be deducted from your discount when you buy again.

4.7. What if I live in a flat or leasehold house, rather than a freehold property?

It's common for flats to be leasehold. Some houses are too, though this is less common.

When buying a leasehold property, you usually purchase a long lease which allows you to live there for a fixed time (usually 125 years). This differs from buying a freehold house, where you own the property outright.

If your building has communal areas Karbon Homes will still be responsible for maintaining these – as set out in your lease. You may take on some on-going costs and responsibilities that you might not have as a tenant. These include:

- Service charges
- Ground rent
- Management fee
- Buildings insurance
- Maintenance and improvement costs

4.8. How will my property be valued?

An independent valuation will be arranged. Someone independent of Karbon Homes will visit your home and carry out a valuation against the current market value, based on the date that you submitted your application. Any improvements you have made to your home will not be taken into account.

If you do not agree with the valuation of your home, you can request a redetermination by the District Valuer and your home will be re-valued. Please note that the value could go up, down or stay the same and this will be the final price of your home. You have 12 weeks to request a redetermination from the date of receiving your Offer Notice. This deadline date will be detailed in your notice letter.

4.9. What happens if I want to sell my home?

If you have bought your home under the scheme you can sell it whenever you like but there are a few things to be aware of.

If you want to sell the property within the first ten years, you must offer it back to us first. You are legally obliged to contact us first before you sell your home on the open market.

If you sell the property within the first five years, you'll also have to pay back some, or all, of the discount. You'll have to pay back all the discount if you sell within the first year. After that, the total amount reduces to:

80% of the discount in the second year	60% of the discount in the third year
40% of the discount in the fourth year	20% of the discount in the fifth year

If your home has increased in value, you may have to repay more discount than you received when you bought your home.

For example, if you bought your home worth £100,000 and got a 40% discount (£40,000), then sold it after 18 months for £120,000, 40% of £120,000 is £48,000 and as you are in the second year, you would have to repay Karbon Homes 80% of £48,000, which is £38,400.

4.10. I want to go ahead, so what's next?

Get in touch with us to request an application pack. We can talk you through the process and help with any questions you might have. You can also find a list of answers to frequently asked questions on page 13.

We will let you know within four weeks of receiving your fully completed application form whether you have the Right to Buy your home.

An independent valuation will then be arranged, see page 15 for details. We will get in touch with you (within eight weeks for a house and within 12 weeks for a flat) with an official offer for the property, called an Offer Notice.

The Offer Notice will confirm:

- The market value of your home at the time of the application
- Your discount and how it was worked out
- Any adjustment for the cost floor
- The price at which you can buy your home
- Terms and conditions of the sale
- Any known problems with your home's structure
- A forecast of services charges, improvement costs and repairs that are applicable

You have 12 weeks after receiving our offer to decide whether you want to go ahead and buy your home.

If you are eligible and thinking of applying, be aware of companies who offer to help you through the process. They may charge you for their service and may be offering a deal which is better for them than it is for you.

The Government has recently pledged to extend the Right to Buy to registered social landlord tenants, this is an exciting proposal by the Government but at present this is only a proposal and there has been no change to legislation or implementation of a new policy.

There is much work to be done by government before a policy is approved and implemented.

We will continue to keep a close eye on developments with the proposed scheme and will keep our Statutory Sales Website updated with future developments regarding this.

Right to Acquire

5.1. What is the Right to Acquire?

The Right to Acquire scheme was designed by Government to allow customers of social landlords, such as Karbon Homes, to purchase their homes at a fixed discount.

5.2. Can I buy my home under Right to Acquire?

You probably have the Right to Acquire if you've been a public sector tenant for at least three years. This doesn't mean you have to have lived in your current home for three years – previous public sector tenancies also count. Time spent aged 16 and over living with a parent who was a public sector tenant might count if you took over your parent's public sector tenancy, and you are 18 or over at the time of application.

To qualify, your home must have been built, purchased or acquired by a registered social landlord after 31 March 1997. Properties transferred after the same date from a local council to a registered social landlord also qualify.

To purchase under the scheme your house or flat must be your only home or your main home. It must also be self-contained – meaning you don't share rooms with people outside of your household.

If you are an assured tenant you qualify for the scheme, but if you have one of the following tenancies you do not:

- An assured shorthold/introductory tenancy beginning before 1 April 2012 or for a fixed term of less than two years
- A long lease
- Shared accommodation
- Intermediate rent If you are an introductory tenant your trial period will count towards the Right to Acquire discount once your tenancy has been converted to an assured tenancy. If you hold a Mortgage tenancy, you must have held your tenancy in your current home for at least five years to qualify.

5.3. Who can't buy their home?

You might not be able to buy your home if:

- You are an undischarged bankrupt or have a bankruptcy petition pending against you
- You have made an arrangement with creditors and you still owe them money
- Your tenancy has been demoted as a result of anti-social behaviour or some other breach of tenancy
- A court has made a possession order which says you must leave your home because of rent arrears, for example

This list is not exhaustive and other restrictions might also apply.

5.4. Are any properties excluded?

Certain types of properties are excluded from the scheme. You might not be able to buy your home if you live in:

- Retirement housing
- A property that has been adapted for disabled use
- Supported housing offering special accommodation, for example for people with disabilities
- A property that forms part of your job such as a caretaker or warden
- A home that is scheduled for possible demolition
- A home valued at or below the landlord's loan for that property
- A property in a designated Rural Area
- Properties built without grant funding

5.5. What discount am I entitled to under Right to Acquire?

Discounts on properties purchased under the Right to Acquire are fixed by the Government and depend on where you live in the UK.

In the North East of England, the fixed amount is £9,000.

5.6. What if I have purchased before?

Your discount will be reduced if you've used Right to Acquire or Right to Buy in the past.

5.7. How will my property be valued?

An independent valuation will be arranged. Someone independent of Karbon Homes will visit your property and carry out a valuation against the current market value, based on the date that you submitted your application. Any improvements you have made to your home will not be taken into account.

5.8. What happens if I want to sell my home?

If you have bought your home under the scheme you can sell it whenever you like but there are a few things to be aware of.

If you want to sell the property within the first ten years, then you must offer it back to us first. You are legally obliged to contact us first before you sell your home on the open market.

If you sell the property within the first five years, you'll also have to pay back some, or all, of the discount. You'll have to pay back all of the discount if you sell within the first year. After that, the total amount reduces to:

80% of the discount in the second year	60% of the discount in the third year
40% of the discount in the fourth year	20% of the discount in the fifth year

If your home has increased in value, you may have to repay more discount than you received when you bought your home. For example, if you bought your home worth £90,000 and got a discount of £9,000, (10%) then sold it after 18 months for £100,000, 10% of £100,000 is £10,000 and as you are in your second year, you would repay Karbon 80% of £10,000, which is £8,000.

5.9. I want to go ahead, so what's next?

Get in touch with us to request an application pack. We can talk you through the process and help with any questions you might have. You can also find a list of answers to frequently asked questions on page 13.

We will let you know within four weeks of receiving your application whether you have the Right to Acquire your home.

An independent valuation will then be arranged, see page 15 for details. We will get in touch with you (within eight weeks for a house and within 12 weeks for a flat) with an official offer for the property, called an Offer Notice.

The Offer of Notice will confirm:

- The market value of your home at the time of the application
- Your discount
- Any adjustment for cost floor

The price at which you can buy your home

- Terms and conditions of the sale
- Any known problems with your home's structure
- A forecast of services charges, improvement costs and repairs that are applicable.

If you are eligible and thinking of applying, be aware of companies who offer to help you through the process. They may charge you for their service and may be offering a deal which is better for them than it is for you.

Frequently asked questions

Q. What costs will I have to cover when buying a home?

A. The process of buying a home involves considerable costs, including:

- Getting a mortgage

Always seek independent financial advice to get the best deal and check if there is a charge for advice before agreeing to anything.

- Mortgage arrangement fees

These vary from provider to provider. Some will charge, and others will not, so always ask for costs up front.

- Survey and legal fees

Mortgage providers carry out surveys to make sure the value of your home is enough to cover the amount of money you are asking to borrow. The cost of a survey will depend on the type of survey you decide to have done and this fee will be your responsibility. You must pay this fee even if you cancel your application later. You will also need to seek an estimate for legal fees from a solicitor.

- Stamp Duty

This is a tax imposed by the Government on the sale of properties above a certain price. Get in touch with us to find out if this affects you.

- Land Registry

You have to pay a fee to register yourself as the new owner of the property.

Q. What about my ongoing costs, will I have any new financial commitments if I become a homeowner?

A. Yes, you will become responsible for new regular payments, as well as existing fees. These are likely to include:

- Mortgage repayments.

If your circumstances change and you cannot keep up mortgage payments you could lose your home and risk becoming homeless. Always get advice from your lender and/or an independent source of advice, such as the Citizens' Advice Bureau, if you do experience difficulty making payments.

- Buildings and contents insurance

Both will be your responsibility unless you live in a flat or maisonette, which usually cover buildings insurance in the service charges.

- Life assurance and mortgage payment protection.

These are optional but should be discussed with your provider for which, buildings insurance is normally included in the service charge.

- Council Tax

- Utility services

Electricity, gas and water will be your responsibility, even if water rates are currently part of your rent.

- Routine and major structural repairs

You will now be responsible for costs such as boiler replacement, rewiring and repairs to water drains and electrics.

- Regular maintenance costs

Improvements and maintenance to your home – both inside and outside – will become your responsibility.

- Service charges and ground rent

These are charged annually, usually if your home is a flat or maisonette, but sometimes even if it is a house, for services such as communal grounds maintenance.

Q. How do I get a mortgage?

A. The amount you need to borrow will depend on how much cash you can contribute towards the cost of the property. There are many lenders available including approved lenders in the high street, price comparison websites and independent mortgage advice brokers. Before borrowing money to buy your home, take time to compare all of the choices available or speak to an independent financial adviser, Always check for fees first.

Our Money Matters Team can provide free financial advice; email moneymatters@karbonhomes.co.uk or call 0808 164 011.

Q. Can I buy my home if I have rent arrears?

A. Yes, but your rent account must be clear on the day of completion or your sale will not go ahead. This also applies to any other money you owe to us.

Q. Can I buy my house with someone else?

A. Yes. You are able to buy with a joint tenant and you can include up to three members of your family, providing they live with you now, are aged 18 or over, and were at your address for at least 12 months before your application.

Q. Am I still entitled to repairs and major works to my home?

A. You are entitled only to essential and emergency repairs while your application is active. We will still make sure your home remains wind and water tight but we will not carry out major works such as window or central heating replacement while you are in the process of buying. If you decide to withdraw from the buying process you will regain your usual rights to repairs.

Q. What general guidance can you give me?

A. If you are planning to buy your home, be wary of individuals or companies offering to help you with the process. Sometimes their advice is misleading and they stand to gain more than their customers from the deals they suggest.

Sometimes customers are asked to pay a lot of money for things they don't need or for things that we do for free – for example providing you with an application form. Some customers have even entered into agreements with companies who end up owning the property and renting it back to them before raising the rents to unaffordable levels. Some customers have found themselves homeless after agreeing to such deal.

If you are approached by someone offering to help you buy your home, always check what's in it for them and don't feel pressured to use their services. It's important to note that no company can negotiate deals on the discount entitlement you are offered or house prices, on your behalf.

You will need independent legal advice and may also choose to have an independent property survey. Be sure to shop around for the best quotes and check you know exactly what you are paying for so you can compare your options.

Pros and cons

Deciding whether to buy your home may be one of the biggest decisions you ever make so don't rush into it. It's important to consider the process carefully as many factors including the state of the economy are out of your control yet may influence your purchase.

Use this page to compare the costs of renting and buying and to work out the advantages and disadvantages of both options. This will help you to decide which is best for you.

	Buying	Renting
One-off costs
Legal fees
Independent financial advisor
Survey fees
Valuation fees
Mortgage arrangement fees
Land registry
Stamp duty
Other costs
Future annual costs
Mortgage repayments
Council Tax
Water charges
Insurances
Life assurance
Internal Upkeep
External repairs/improvements
Service charges (if applicable)
Other costs
Advantages
Disadvantages
Your decision

Next steps

You can find and download the Right to Buy and Right to Acquire applications packs here under next steps:

www.karbonhomes.co.uk/find-a-home/rent-a-home/can-i-buy-my-home/

Don't forget you'll need to provide ID when submitting your application.

For more information Email us at RTB-RTA@karbonhomes.co.uk

Call us on 0808 164 0111

For free, impartial advice about money contact the Money Matters Team

Email: moneymatters@karbonhomes.co.uk

Call: 0808 164 0111

